Words Can Make a Difference!

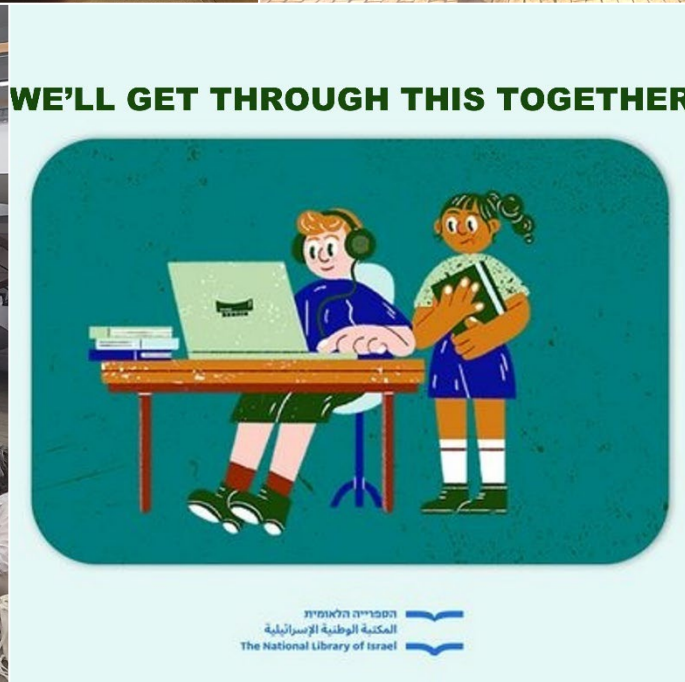

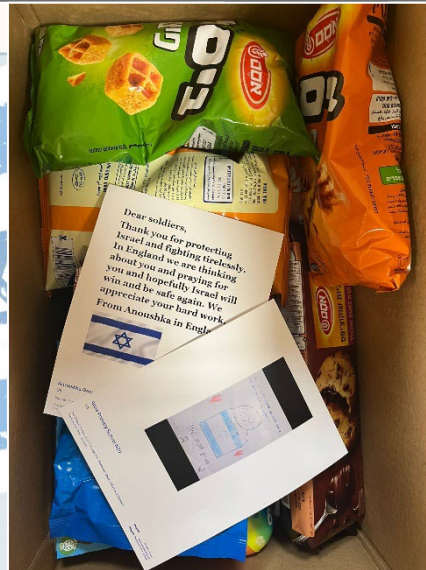

NLI has preserved letters written by children during times of war in the past. Now we are inviting you to send a letter or drawing that we will send to Israeli soldiers/citizens/kids to raise their spirits. And we will also preserve it in our collections.

Bearing Witness: Documenting October 7 and Its Aftermath

Entrusted with the sacred duty of cultivating and preserving the collective memory of the Jewish people and the State of Israel, in the aftermath of the terrible events of Simchat Torah/October 7 and the ongoing war, the National Library of Israel is embarking on a massive documentation and preservation project, unprecedented in its scope.

Our goal is to craft a vast, reliable, and open repository, reflecting a broad scope of testimony, documentation, social media coverage and public information efforts that will serve the purpose of creating a national memory database. This repository will enable evidence-based historical research, ensuring the testimony of those who lived through these moments resonates for generations to come.

The documentation project is supported by the Israeli Ministry of Heritage and by additional partners in Israel and in the Jewish world. The list of partners is continuously growing.

Please share with us any documentation of this unique period of Jewish history. We are interested in materials that you have collected or created.
